THE MURRAY HALL CIVIL RIGHTS SPEAKER SERIES PRESENTS

WHAT'S IN A NAME? PUBLIC TRIBUTES, PUBLIC HISTORY, AND COMMUNITY IDENTITY

By Dr. Christopher P. Lehman

7:00 PM THURSDAY, OCTOBER 4TH, 2018 MURRAY HALL PARLOR

OSU alumnus Dr. Lehman will discuss his research on slavery and segregation in the United States, his campaign to rename a university building after a student of color, and the role of public history in shaping local communities.

Dr. Christopher P. Lehman is the chair of the Ethnic, Gender, & Women’s Studies Department at St. Cloud State University in St. Cloud, Minnesota. He is the first African American graduate of Oklahoma State University’s Honors Program, and he has been a summer visiting fellow at Harvard University. His writings have been published through the University of Massachusetts, the Minnesota Historical Society, and Oxford University.

Sponsored by the Division of Institutional Diversity and the Department of Philosophy