Description: An interdisciplinary, team-taught Humanities class covering the literature, art, drama, philosophy and intellectual history of Medieval and Renaissance Europe.

Requirements: Students are expected to attend class regularly, read the assigned material before the class in which it is to be discussed, and participate in discussions. Grades will be based on the following:

a) Three short (3 pp., 850-950 words) take-home papers (paper 1 is worth 75 pts.; paper 2, 100; paper 3, 125). 300 pts

b) In-class Midterm Examination 100 pts.

c) In-class 2nd Examination 115 pts.

d) In-class Final Examination 115 pts.

e) D2L discussion participation (up to) 45 pts.
{cf separate sheet for this assignment}

f) Attendance (up to) 25 pts.

Total: 700 pts.

Attendance: ‘Good Attendance’ is understood as 3 or fewer unexcused absences.
Attendance pts. will be distributed as follows: 0 unexcused absences = 25 pts.; 1 = 20 pts.; 2 = 15 pts.; and 3 = 10 pts. After 3 unexcused absences, 7 pts. (1 % pt.) will be deducted for each additional absence.

Policies: The University Syllabus-Attachment has been placed on D2L. Additionally, all make-ups, late assignments, and a grade of Incomplete must have prior approval. And, I do not tolerate plagiarism in any form, and will recommend the maximum penalty in such cases.

Have a Good Semester!
